Year's Day Penn State will meet Southern California in the feature of the Tournament of the Roses at Pasadena.

Thus far the Coast has been the scene of seven intersectional football battles and the honors rest with that section of our country which lies east of the Rockies. What Californians call the East has won five games. The Coast has won three and one contest resulted in a tie. The Indians, Michigan, Dartmouth, Harvard and Penn State have made the journey Eastward victorious. Brown. Pennsylvania and Ohio State have been beaten out there and last New Year's Day Washington and Jefferson came away with that sensational scoreless tie with California.

Penn State, which was the best in the East in 1921, fell quite a few pegs his year. Pittsburgh was beaten by both West Virginia and Lafayette. So, in so far as championships and their econd cousins are concerned, the three contests in California this holiday week will decide nothing.

West Virginia ranks as the strongest of the invaders and Southern California must be recognized as the best of the lefenders. Gonzaga's eleven, representative of a little Jesuit college up in Washington, has a fair record, but caniet be regarded as one of the elite out that way. Gonzaga met only two of the then became one of the coach's assistants. Warner sent Kerr out to the Coast last season to organize the Warner himself will take charge at Stanford next year. So the game on Saturday will be the Warner system. Stanford has not been successful in football in recent years. The time was when it led the procession on the Coast. It was a pioneer in football on the Coast and had the benefit of the coaching of Walter Camp and other Yale stars. But Stanford has not been able to come back since it threw over Rugby for a return to the American game. The 1922 record of the Cardinals follows:

10 wait until the Grand Duke of all the cauliflower ears changes his mind he will be waiting long after he is too old even for the old people's home.

In connection with this plot to get Willard a match with Jack Dempsey it is said that Tom O'Rourke is liable to arrest any day for the crime of lese majeste. He was heard to remark upon several occasions, "Rasp-berries for the Duke of Muldoon." This is serious if true.

| Quite a job on its hands and that a defeat for the Eastern eleven certainly would be no upset.

Last year Penn State went to the boast with honors heaped upon it. The Nitanny Lions had demonstrated their right to the leading laurels in the East and accentuated their class at Seattle with a triumph over Washington by 28 to 9. This time Penn State has gone to the coast without any high rating. It was beaten by the Navy, Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, and heid to a scoreless tie by Syracuse.

Southern California, on the other hand, reached the zenith of its football fortunes last fall. It bowed only to California, by 12 to 9. The Trojans defeated Stanford, 6 to 9: Washington State, 41 to 3. Here's their record;

Expanding the Colleges.

T is announced that the colleges are about to take up billiards in a serious way and that intercollegiate billiard matches are under consideration. This of course will broaden the scope of the modern American university. Just now the course of study in the average college includes only football, baseball, basketball, rowing, track and field athletics, Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD hockey, golf, tennis, lacrosse, polo, boxing, wrestling, swimming, chess and squash. The addition of billiards to the college curriculum will give the student something to do nights. Otherwise boredom might force him to waste part evenings of his bright college years in "digging."

One looks forward to the first Yale-Harvard intercollegiate billiard match with the prospect of a quickened pulse when the Yale champion gathers the ivory balls in a corner of the green table. One can anticipate the shout of the Yale cheering section. "Hold 'em Yale!" The table the shout of the Yale cheering section, "Hold 'em, Yale!" The table should be placed in the Yale Bowl, which could be illuminated for the occasion, and great care should be taken to keep the tickets out of the hands of the speculators.

Importing Another Sport.

ATURALLY the expansion of collegiate activities will not stop with the adoption of billiards. For some time the taking up of pinochle has been under consideration. The project had to be abandoned during the world war, when pinochle, Gerhardt Hauptmann, Wagnerian season football game was music, kraut and all things German were ostracized. But with the return alte an event. When the Carissle of more or less normalcy there is no prejudice against pinochle in the Twenty, years after that triumph of the Wolverines over the Cardinals we find no fewer than three post season contests scheduled in California for the Christmas holidays. The cycle will be started to-day at San Diego, where Weat Virginia, undefeated this year, will tackle Gonzaga from up in Washinston. On Saturday Pittsburgh will invade the big stadium at Palo Alto for an encounter with Stanford and on New Year's Day Penn State will meet Southern California in the feature of the have been impartial, the official scorers favor the local players, which explains to some extent the lofty averages of the Cobbs, the Sislers and the Speakers. In St. Louis, for instance, a scorer who would decide against Sisler on a close play would be held as one devoid of civic virtue and the local K. K. would get him. New York players are at a decided disadvantage, because no baseball writer or scorer feels that the heavens will fall if they do not bat 400.

Brooklyns Defeat Lexington.

Defeating the Lexington F. C. eleven by the score of 3 goals to 1 at the Ridgewood baseball grounds yesterday, the Brooklyn Football Club gained two more points in the New York State League. A long shot by P. Gallagher landed in Lexington's net five minutes before half-time and Brooklyn started the second period with a 1 to 0 lead.
